Too Much Is Enough
Just as the pen is mightier than the sword, so is the tongue mightier than the fist. Mrs. Violet E. Richter took it in silence and with patience
when her husband flew into a rage
at being asked to move the furniture, knocked her down and threatened her with a gun. But when he familarly referred to her as "the old woman" it was too much. She sued for divorce in a Lancaster,
Pa., court and got it.

Laurel Tree Legend
In Greek mythology, Apollo loved the nymph Daphne. When he descended to earth to woo her, she fled from him, and begged her mother, Gaia, the earth goddess, to have her. Through the intercession of Gaia, Zeus turned Daphne into a laurel tree. From that time Apollo made the laurel sacred and winners in the Pythian games, as well as great poets, were crowned with the leaves.

Beef Stew with Vegetables and Dumplings

by Dorothy Craig

THIS can be called "the short cut way to a good stew." For while this stew is thick with carrots, potatoes, celery, turnips and other vegetables, yet you don't have to peel a single potato, scrape a carrot or shell a pea to go in it. You simply add condensed vegetable soup to your meat and thickened stock—and there you are! It's the easiest and one of the most delicious stews I know about.

2 tablespoons shortening
1 pound beef cut in 1/2 inch cubes
2 cups water
3/4 cup vinegar
5 cans condensed vegetable soup
Melt the shortening in a heavy pan and brown the meat well. Cover with water and simmer until tender (about an hour and a half). Then add the soup mixed with water and cook until thickened. Add the vegetable soup and mix well. Drop the dumplings on top of the stew.

Dumplings:
1 cup flour, sifted
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
Mix the flour, salt and baking powder. Add the milk and stir until a soft dough is formed. Drop by spoonfuls on top of the hot stew. Cover and steam for 15-20 minutes. Serve immediately. Serves 4.

Public Invited To Benefit Whist

Next Friday, February 16, is the date when Daly City's whist players will gather at Masonic hall for the monster card party to be given for the benefit of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church.

There will be a large cash first prize and several other outstanding awards, the committee announces.

Playing will begin at 8:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Beginnings of Kindergarten

Maria Montessori, the Italian educator, studied at the University of Rome and graduated in medicine in 1894, being the first woman in Italy to do so. She then took up the subject of educating defective children. From the experience thus acquired, she came to the conclusion that similar methods might be applied to normal children of a lower age, and after a series of experiments on a small scale she extended them to a large number of children in private and public nursery schools in Rome. Her ideas on education have been set forth in several books which have been widely translated.

On VALENTINE'S DAY Let Hearts Be Gay

—and hearts are the keynote of party refreshments

by Dorothy Greig

Hearts are trumps at this Valentine luncheon from the heart shaped chicken-and-mushroom shortcake to the heart decorated cake

A VALENTINE party is one of the gayest and — and easiest — of all parties to give. We play up hearts and romance; and since romance is ever in high favor, a party built around it begins, continues on and ends up in a happy glow.

The refreshments and table decorations feature hearts, too. For instance, in the chicken and mushroom shortcake suggested below, use a heart shaped cookie cutter to give heart shape to the biscuit dough. And for added emphasis we might even garnish the shortcake with a tiny red heart of pimiento cut out with a small heart cutter.

Our simple sponge cake dessert assumes a gay Valentine air with a decoration of candy hearts. No trouble, and a lot of fun!

Valentine Luncheon Menu

Tomato Juice
Creamed Chicken-and-Mushroom Shortcake
Buttered Green Peas
Spiced Potatoes
Sponge Cake with Marshmallow Icing
Coffee

This is the way to make that:

Creamed Chicken-and-Mushroom Shortcake
2 cans condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup cream, light
2 egg yolks
2 cups chicken (cut in 1/2 inch squares)

Empty the cream of mushroom soup in a saucepan and mix well. Then stir in the cream and heat. Add the egg yolks (mixed with some of the hot mushroom sauce), and the chicken. Serve on the shortcake biscuits (cut heart shape). Serves 2.

Shortcake Biscuits:

2 cups flour, sifted
4 tablespoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1 1/4 cups milk
Mix dry ingredients and sift.

Cut in the shortening. Then add the milk gradually mixing with a knife until a soft dough forms. Toss on a floured board and roll lightly about 1/4 inch thick. Cut out 16 biscuits with a heart shaped cutter. Place 2 biscuits on a baking pan; brush with soft butter and place the remaining biscuits on top. Then bake in a hot (450°) oven for 12-15 minutes. Serve the creamed chicken and mushrooms over the lower part of the shortcake and place the other half biscuit on top. Place a piece of pimiento cut heart shape on top of the biscuit.

Note: This is not a rich biscuit mixture, but makes very well-shaped hearts because it does not spread while baking.

George and Millie

(Editor's Note: Technical information for this series has been supplied by The New Process Laundry.)

Dear Folks:

Thank you for coming to our rescue with those clothes. As I told you in the telegram, everything was ruined. George does look a bit queer in papa's old suit—he's so thin, and papa weighing 200 lbs. and all, doesn't help. But, as I told George, HE should object! Anyone who would try to do a washing like the Europeans of the Dark Ages deserves all he gets.

I'd like to be able to tell you that George's last escapade had resulted in his writing his paper on something else—but I can't. He's hard at work on it from dawn till midnight every day. I'd also like to be able to tell you that I had forgiven George—but I can't. I thought he'd never do anything worse than ruining all our clothes. But he has!

One of the few holidays or anniversaries he ever remembers is Valentine's Day. I always look forward to it as it has to make up for all the Christmases and birthdays he forgets entirely. This year he said, "You know, Millie, I think I'll give you something practical—something that would be more lasting than a box of candy or flowers. You're too intelligent to care for trifles. Vanitas, vanitas, omnes est vanitas."

With that Latin mouthful he went off dreamily leaving me to wonder if he referred to, say, an electric refrigerator, a fur coat, or a new automobile. I had not long to wait. He returned that evening with a square-ish box. Under the layers of carefully folded tissue I found a dumb looking object—an old-fashioned iron—the kind made out of brass that has an inner piece of cast iron which you heat to iron with.

"Very interesting," I said vaguely, "but where is my Valentine?" "Why that's it," he says, very offended like. "That's a seventeenth century iron from Korea, and I paid $100 for it. You might show some appreciation!"

Well, I'm not speaking to George and I heard him tell Mrs. Smith, our neighbor, that he can't imagine why not. Good Heavens! Love,
Your devoted Millie.

ALICE FAYE AND WARNER BAXTER STAR IN FAST-MOVING FILM OF CHINA BANDITS

Alice Faye and Warner Baxter

Two Americans live a startling drama, trapped in a remote United States consulate besieged by fierce Mongolian bandits, in "Baricade," thrilling Twentieth Century-Fox picture which opened yesterday at the Daly City theater. Alice Faye and Warner Baxter, co-starred in the film, are the couple and their story is one of the adventure-packed romantic highlights of the season.

With death seemingly but an hour away, these two learn to love in the face of peril and their efforts to resist the bandits and fight their way to safety make for thrilling entertainment in the best screen manner.

The screen play by Granville Walker opens in a city in Northern China where Alice Faye is singing in a big hotel. When she happens to be the only eye-witness to a political assassination, she flees in fear for her life, only to plunge straight into deadly danger when she reaches an American consulate.

Hot on her trail for the eye-witness account of the murder, Warner Baxter encounters Alice in a train just as it is stopped by the raiding bandits who have torn up the tracks.

Companion feature on the bill is "South of the Border," starring Gene Autry.

Do Not Open Until 2039

For opening 100 years hence, a package of tea has been put away in a safe place by the Empire Tea Market expansion bureau of London celebrating the centenary of the first tea produced in the British empire. The parchment-wrapped leaves were enclosed in aluminum foil to prevent oxidation and loss of taste, and the whole package placed in a lead case.

Flying Lessons

Have you ever watched a big airliner coming in for a landing? If another plane is landing or taking off, the airline pilot will make another slow circle of the field, even though it means losing precious minutes from his schedule.

This extreme caution has enabled the airlines of the United States to fly more than 800 million passenger miles without a fatality.

The public demands safety in transportation. Yet this same public daily takes chances in its own automobiles that astound an air pilot or a locomotive engineer.

The National Safety council asks you, Mr. and Mrs. Average Motorist, to keep in mind always that whether your life is in your own hands or entrusted to others—safety does the trick!

San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

American Decoration

American visitors to the ex-Kaiser's palace at Potsdam are not only reminded by the guide that an American President once dined there, but are shown the famous Shell room whose walls and ceiling are studded with semi-precious stones, and an agate-looking slab which he describes as, "petrified wood from your own country, from a petrified forest in Arizona."

Home Equality

An extensive survey taken at Pasadena, Calif., relative to father's place in the home, revealed that the majority of mothers believe if father will just keep out of the kitchen he isn't a bad person to help out along other lines of housework. The final conclusion was that America is achieving equality in home making—meaning that father is doing an increasing share of the "housework."

Little Sir Echo

Wild Bill's Grave

Wild Bill Hickok's grave and that of the equally famous Calamity Jane, in the old "Boot Hill cemetery" above Deadwood Gulch, Deadwood, S. D., are visited annually by thousands of tourists.

Eat 'em Down—Banana Ham Roll-Ups!

WRAP the bonny banana in a hunk of boiled ham; decorate with mustard; snuggle in cheese sauce; trust to the oven! Your reward for these simple attentions to a friendly fruit will be a shining time of palate pleasure. The picture practically tells you how it's done, but for full details read the recipe that follows.

Banana Ham Rolls

1 tablespoon soft butter
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
6 thin slices boiled ham
6 firm bananas, peeled
Cheese Sauce
Mix together butter and mustard and spread on ham. Wrap a slice of the prepared ham around each banana and fasten with toothpicks. Place into a buttered shallow baking pan and pour Cheese Sauce over bananas. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes, or until bananas are tender—easily pierced with a fork. Serve hot with Cheese Sauce from the pan poured over each roll. 6 servings.

Cheese Sauce

1 1/4 tablespoons butter
1 1/4 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup milk
1 1/4 cups grated American cheese
Melt butter, add flour and stir until smooth. Stir in milk slowly. Add cheese and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Makes 1 cup sauce.
